RECOMMENDATION

Tirana, 20.12.2022

Ref: Estel Dritaliana Dina's reference

It was my pleasure and privilege to get to know Estel Dritaliana Dina during the 2023–2026 academic years as her programming teacher. Witnessing her brilliant past and noticing rapid improvement during her high school years gives me confidence to write this recommendation letter for such an excellent student.

Estel is the rare type of student who grasps knowledge very rapidly, is extremely diligent, and thoroughly reliable. I find her to be an intelligent young woman who is not just skilled but willing to learn. Despite being involved in a completely new area like information technology, she got used to it in a very short period of time, which showed great ability and distinguished her as a tireless student who asks for support when she needs it and uses every minute of class time efficiently. Considering that the IT subjects taught in our school are difficult and mostly demanding compared to the programs in other high schools in Albania, it definitely distinguishes her performance, determination, and solid work ethic that will continue to serve her and the community in positive ways.

She is a responsible, organized, and dedicated individual. When Estel is given the task of completing an assignment or project, she does so with commitment and, what is most important, shows exceptional organizational and leadership competence. Her creative nature is an exceptional quality that makes her successful in various subjects and areas such as computer networking and programming. She is respected and supported by both academic staff and students. Her innate ability to see the best in people allows her to get along with all sorts of personalities. Thus, she has good relationships with others because she is a sincere and responsible person.

As her teacher, I have no hesitation in recommending her, as Estel has excellent English skills, a strong technical background, and a love for IT and science. More importantly, she is highly intelligent and a very studious young woman.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if further information is required.
